Frequently Asked Questions & Answers

How are workshops taught?

Workshops are taught in person in a group setting, divided by instrument and skill level ranging from beginner to advanced. Each workshop lasts between 60 to 75 minutes. Musicians are expected to learn their selected repertoire in advance so they are performance-ready by the time their workshop(s) begins (preferably music will be memorized).

During workshops, musicians will explore technique, musicality, artistic expression and collaboration.

Workshop week also includes seminars full of dynamic topics taught by Workshop Instructors and sometimes a guest speaker. These are usually presented in a forum setting with specialty note pages provided to each participant.

Who are the instructors?

Workshops are taught by Jenny (violin) Sarah Baker (cello) and Hannah Baker (pianist). Guest speakers are included as well. You can read full bios here.

Where are workshops taught?

The 2024 Workshops will be hosted at Mid-Valley Performing Arts Center for violinists and cellists. Pianists will meet at Daynes Music in Midvale.

What does a typical workshop schedule look like?

Workshops start at the beginning of the day and finish in the late afternoon or early evening with short breaks in between sessions, and a lunch break at mid-day.

All participants join in a final concert at the end of the week. Family and friends are invited to purchase tickets and enjoy a wonderful production by workshop participants and special performances by Jenny and members of Family Four.

PERFORMANCE WORKSHOP

JOB Performance Workshop

Mid-Valley Performing Arts Center + Daynes Music

How do I know what level to register for?

Each workshop will have a Suzuki (strings) or piano level listed in the description. Note that these estimations are approximate. It is important musicians select the level they will feel comfortable performing in by the time Workshop week begins.

Can I play at various levels?

Yes. We encourage musicians to review the levels listed with each workshop, as well as take a peek at the sheet music previews to get an idea of the skill level required of each song.

Can I play more than one instrument?

Yes. We love having multi-instrument musicians. It is often that we have a violin player who can also play cello or piano. Violinists and Cellists are responsible for their own instruments. Pianists will have access to keyboards and/or upright pianos.

Do I have to be local to SLC to participate?

No. You do not have to be local to SLC to participate. We welcome musicians from any part of the world.

How do I get the correct sheet music?

The correct sheet music will be included with your workshop purchase and it is part of the flat rate fee. It is vital participants use the sheet music sent with their registration so they can practice the correct arrangement.

Please make it a top priority to download your music immediately after registering. This will prevent your download link from expiring. In the case that your link does expire, click on the original download link in your confirmation email and you'll be redirected to request a new link.

What if I didn't download my sheet music within the 24-hour download period?

If your link expires, you can click on the original email link where you'll be automatically redirected to request a new download link via SquareSpace. Please use this solution first before contacting Jenny directly. Sending music manually is time consuming and can be easily resolved with the process above.

What if I didn't receive a link to download my music?

Search spam folders for sender no-reply@squarespace.info with emails titled "Jenny Oaks Baker." The headline of the email will look like "Order # is Ready." Please use this solution first before contacting Jenny directly. Sending music manually is time consuming and can be easily resolved with the process above. If you still can't find your download email after registering, please contact jennyoaksbaker@icloud.com.

Can parents view workshops?

Yes. There is seating in the workshop auditorium for parents to watch. Parents with younger children not participating in workshops may be asked to wait in the lobby area to limit disturbances during workshops.

Is food provided at Workshops?

No. Participants are responsible for providing their own meals. Please note that per Mid-Valley Performing Arts Center rules, participants should plan to eat in the lobby or outside.

Are parents required to stay at workshops while their child(ren) participate?

The JOB Performance Workshop staff are not responsible for the liability of under-aged children outside of their designated workshop(s). We recommend parents of elementary-aged children expect to attend workshop week with their child(ren).

Do I have to attend my workshop(s) in order to play in the concert?

Yes. Workshop attendance is required for final concert participation. It is expected that workshop instructors will make adjustments to the bowings, dynamics or musicality of a piece. Musicians will only be able to receive these updates by attending their workshops.

What is the dress code?

For workshop rehearsals and private lessons, participants should dress comfortably and appropriately, like you would for school or work. The concert is formal dress (dresses or skirt and a blouse for girls. Slacks and collared shirt for boys).

If I register for a workshop but for some reason can't attend, can I get a refund?

All workshop sales are final with a no refund policy. In the case of unexpected extenuating circumstances, we express heartfelt condolences. However, if it is a scheduling issue, please contact the workshop team at jennyoaksbaker@icloud.com so you can swap your original workshop for another that fits your schedule.

What if I purchase a workshop and realize I need a different level?

In cases where you purchase a workshop and decide you are unable to meet the skill level to play the piece, you may swap your workshop for another by contacting the workshop team at jennyoaksbaker@icloud.com.

Due to the automated digital download of your original purchase, we cannot refund your sheet music. Instead, our support team will redirect you to a place on the website where you can purchase the correct sheet music without the additional workshop fee. The same policy applies for those who decide they'd prefer to advance to a higher level.

Can I transfer my workshop registration to a different participant?

Due to the copyright protection of the sheet music that automatically gets sent with registration, we can't transfer registration between people. Each participant should register for themselves. Please do your best to plan ahead. In the case of unexpected extenuating circumstances, we express heartfelt condolences.

How do I buy tickets for the final concert?

Tickets for the final performance can be purchased at the Mid-Valley Performing Arts Center website HERE. We encourage all friends and family to attend!

(NOTE: performers do not need to purchase a ticket for themselves. Workshop participants will sit backstage in designated seats.)

If you still have questions, please email jennyoaksbaker@icloud.com.
